- Schedule B Search Engine can be used to find export commodities
- There are more than 9,000 export commodity codes
- <https://uscensus.prod.3ceonline.com>

What is the Global Market Finder?

- Global Market Finder is an interactive data visualization tool that is free and open to the public
- It provides annual and the most recent quarter's U.S. export data at the commodity or country level, which examines trading partner, unit price, and method of transportation
- It is updated quarterly
- Manufacturers and other businesses wishing to expand their business globally can use it to identify potential markets and compare existing markets

What data is available in Global Market Finder?

Global Market Finder data is presented based on 2 main criteria:

- ✓ Commodity Code
- ✓ Country

With these two parameters set, one can examine:

- Map of merchandise trade
- A time series detailing changes in a commodity to a particular place
- Methods of transportation of a commodity to a destination country
- Unit price of a particular commodity in a selected country
